Reduce Costs, Cycle Time, and Risk

Traditional methods of providing simple apps and processes to business units haven't kept up with today's pace of business. IT wants to meet business unit needs, but it's costly and time consuming with traditional tools. Frustrated when IT can't deliver small projects quickly, business units often deploy rogue, unsecure solutions outside of IT's control.

Liberate Business Units and IT

Formvine's breakthrough ease-of-use enables IT or business units to quickly create the simple apps they need, liberating them both from the burden of lengthy, costly collaboration on small, ad-hoc projects.

ATTRIBUTES & CAPABILITIES

All You Need for Simple Apps and Flows

Most apps that business units need are simple. Gather data through forms. Send email to appropriate people to get something done. Assign a follow-up task to a reviewer or approver. And, of course, get instant access to data without having to ask IT to run a report or a database export. Formvine handles all such needs with ease.

Task Flows and Approval Chains

Easily automate the assignment and tracking of tasks such as approval requests – enabling you to route the right task to the right person at the right time.

Form Flows and Conditional Rules

Create branching forms and decision trees that ask the right follow-on questions based on prior answers in a form.

Drag-and-Drop, Point-and-Click Ease

If you can use a web browser, you're ready to use Formvine. The intuitive browser-based interface makes assembling forms, configuring flows, and designing data views a breeze for anyone.

Instant Self-Service Access to Data

All users need is a web browser to see, share, edit, find, filter, and export data gathered through forms.
